The true Southwest awaits you in Albuquerque, New Mexico. Framed on the east by the Sandia Mountains and on the west by five dormant volcanoes, and bisected by the Rio Grande, Albuquerque is a site to behold. A city of about 500,000 residents, Albuquerque offers a laid-back attitude and welcoming climate, complete with 310 days of sunshine per year.

Recognized as one of the most culturally diverse cities in the country, Albuquerque’s ethnic tapestry is reflected in its architecture, artwork, cultural centers and cuisine. Countless customs and traditions passed down over generations are a vibrant part of daily life in the city, and make Albuquerque an epicenter of authentic Southwestern culture. Albuquerque is home to more than the Native American, Hispanic, Latino and Anglo cultures for which New Mexico is well known. The multicultural city includes strong African American, Asian, Middle Eastern and other ethnic communities, creating a unique and modern Southwestern blend. In fact, more than 70 different ethnicity’s call Albuquerque home.

Albuquerque is the perfect place to revel in the great outdoors. Visit one of the 14 beautiful golf courses, take a hot air balloon flight, hike in the Sandia Mountains or along one of the dormant volcanoes or just stroll the streets and shops of Old Town. Don’t miss the stunning views of the city from Sandia Peak Aerial Tramway as it slowly climbs the 10,350 foot peak of the mountains that form Albuquerque’s eastern border.

Prefer high heels to hiking boots? There are lots of indoor opportunities as well. Visit the National Hispanic Cultural Center, or one of the 19 museums, including the National Atomic Museum, Albuquerque Museum of Art & History and the American International Rattlesnake Museum (watch out!).

Historic neon signs still glow on old Route 66 through Albuquerque, which is now Central Avenue. Alongside the vintage signs, you’ll see new versions put up by businesses that are continuing the aesthetic traditions of old Route 66, adorning their shops with bright, buzzing neon. The famous Route 66 continues to guide visitors through Albuquerque.

Plan on attending the 2008 POSNA Annual Meeting, and you’ll understand why Albuquerque, New Mexico is a destination like no other.

OPTIONAL EDUCATIONAL EVENTS

Thursday, May 1, 2008

Spine Symposium

Date: Thursday, May 1, 2008
Time: 1:00 PM – 2:45 PM
Cost: No Charge
Chairs: Mike Vitale, MD, Mark Erickson, MD
Faculty: Randy Betz, MD, George Thompson, MD, Scott Luhmann, MD, Eric Wall, MD, Jose A Herrera-Soto, MD, John Smith, MD, Robert Campbell, MD, Peter Sturm, MD, Mohammad Diab, MD, Jack Flynn, MD, Larry Lenke, MD, Peter Newton, MD, David Skaggs, MD

The POSNA Spine Symposium will attempt to address several modern day controversies in the treatment of scoliosis. There will be a debate on VEPTR vs Growing Rods for Congenital vs Infantile Scoliosis. Other options for treatment of scoliosis in skeletally immature children will be reviewed including an update on growth modulation in the spine, and practical tips in the use of growing rods. There will also be a section describing pearls and pitfalls in the various approaches towards severe scoliosis including traction, osteotomies, and anterior release.

Foot Symposium:

Foot Deformities (Birth to Adolescence)

Date: Thursday, May 1, 2008
Time: 1:00 PM – 2:45 PM
Cost: No Charge
Chairs: Matthew Dobbs, MD and David Scher, MD
Faculty: Vince Mosca, MD, Scott Mubarek, MD, Ken Kuo, MD, Perry Schoenecker, MD, Luciano Dias, MD

The purpose of this symposium is to provide increased time within the 2008 POSNA meeting to discuss both common and complex foot problems occurring from birth to adolescence. The format will be a series of interactive talks with time for discussion followed by a round table case-based format where complex and interesting cases will be presented. This group of faculty has the expertise and skill to provide an enjoyable and stimulating forum for all.

Communications Symposium:

Communication Skills for Pediatric Orthopaedists – A Challenge

Date: Thursday, May 1, 2008
Time: 1:00 PM – 2:45 PM
Cost: No Charge
Chair: John Purvis, MD
Faculty: Terry Canale, MD, Bob Eilert, MD, Howard Epps, MD, Vicki Kalen, MD, Donna Phillips, MD, John Tongue, MD

Think you’re pretty good at communicating with your pediatric patients and their families? We need your participation. Our faculty members are specially trained mentors for the AAOS Communication Skills Program. They know about engagement, empathy, education and enlistment, but how does that work in the real world of pediatric orthopaedic practice? New to POSNA this year, this interactive symposium will emphasize the value of good communication skills, focus on special considerations for pediatric patients, offer some tips and techniques to use in your practice, and provide references for further study. Bring your experiences, tips for success and questions. Help confirm the skills that work and create opportunities for teaching them.
Thursday, May 1, continued

Hip and Basic Science Symposium

- Date: Thursday, May 1, 2008
- Time:
  - Basic Science: 1:00 PM – 2:45 PM
  - Hip: 3:05 PM – 4:50 PM
- Cost: No Charge
- Hip Chairs: Ernie Sink, MD, Ira Zaltz, MD
- Hip Faculty: Lori Karol MD, Colin Moseley, MD, Tony Herring MD, Dennis Wenger MD
- Basic Science Chair: Brian Snyder, MD
- Basic Science Faculty: Eric Radin, MD, Mathew Wurman, MD

The POSNA 2008 Basic Science and Pediatric Hip Symposia will be run sequentially and the first session will focus on the Basic Science Understanding of Hip and Joint Degradation and Preservation; thus introducing the second session on Clinical and Surgical Decision Making in Pediatric Hip Disorders. Registrants can go to either or both symposium.

In the Basic Science session, Eric Radin MD, a pioneering researcher will discuss the “Evidence for a mechanical etiology of osteoarthritis”. Mathew Wurman, MD a geneticist and Howard Hughes Scholar will discuss biologic mechanisms of cartilage destruction and preservation. In addition to a review of new and innovative methods to assess the biochemical content and mechanical properties of articular cartilage, the faculty will also discuss redirection osteotomies on hip function.

The Hip Symposium will build upon the prior session by including lectures, case presentations, pro-con debates and free papers. Faculty will focus on management of significant residual dysplasia after successful reduction of the hip in DDH in the early and late follow-up period. Other topics include role of the ossific nucleus prior to open reduction. This will be followed by a discussion of management of the chronic severe SCFE with significant functional deformity.

CP/Gait Symposium: Educational Objectives:

The purpose of this symposium is to focus on new advances and techniques for the care of lower extremity deformity and gait disorders in children with cerebral palsy. It will combine case based-expert opinion programming with research presentations. There will be ample time for discussion and questions.

CP/Gait Symposium: A case based approach to the treatment of Lower extremity disorders in children with Cerebral Palsy

- Date: Thursday, May 1, 2008

SOCIAL and OPTIONAL EVENTS

Wednesday, April 30, 2008

Santa Fe via the Turquoise Trail

Date: Wednesday, April 30, 2008
Time: 9:00 AM – 4:30 PM
Price: $48.00

The historic Turquoise Trail National Scenic Byway links Albuquerque and Santa Fe and encompasses 15,000 square miles in the heart of central New Mexico. You will drive back into history through the mining towns of Golden, Madrid, and Cerrillos, whose mines once yielded gold, silver, lead, zinc, and turquoise. During its heyday in the 1880s Cerrillos boasted twenty-one saloons, and four hotels. A renewed spirit has brought art, crafts, theater, music, museums, and restaurants to these towns.

Upon arrival in Santa Fe you may take an optional guided walking tour, visiting such points of interest as the historic Plaza, St. Francis Cathedral, the Loretto Chapel, with its famous “miraculous” staircase, and the San Miguel Mission. Founded in 1610, Santa Fe was the last stop on the Camino Real, the fabled Royal Road that stretched from Mexico City to the northernmost reaches of the Spanish Empire. Today it is the heart and soul of the Southwest, and “Santa Fe Style” is synonymous with all the best the region has to offer. Its historic Plaza, winding streets, covered arcades, hidden gardens and courtyards, and Pueblo-style architecture reflect the blending of Indian, Hispanic, and Anglo cultures.

Lunch will be on your own at one of the many restaurants near the Plaza. Your guide will provide maps and offer suggestions. After lunch you may continue to explore on your own or indulge in a southwestern shopping spree at the many unique specialty stores and galleries around the Plaza. Nearly all the city’s main cultural attractions are also within walking distance of the Plaza, including the Georgia O’Keeffe Museum and the Palace of the Governors.

The Jemez Mountain Trail and Bandelier National Monument

Date: Wednesday, April 30, 2008
Time: 9:00 AM – 5:00 PM
Price: $82.00

Come along for a ride along one of the Southwest’s most spectacular routes – the Jemez Mountain Trail, declared a National Scenic and Historic Byway in 1998 in recognition of its wonderful natural and historic resources.

Your first stop will be the Walatowa Visitors Center at Jemez Pueblo, one of the nineteen Native American Pueblos of New Mexico, situated against the deep red rocks of the Jemez Mountains. The Center provides visitor information about the Pueblo and displays a selection of arts and crafts created by Jemez artisans.

You then continue along the Jemez River as it cuts through canyons whose colors change dramatically from brown to brilliant red and orange. Climbing east out of Jemez Canyon you enter Valle Grande and the Valles Caldera National Preserve. Situated at 8,500 feet above sea level this is one of the largest volcanic craters in the world. Although fourteen miles across, only part of the caldera can be seen because the view is obscured by the great dome of Redondo Peak, all that remains of a volcano. There will be a stop at the scenic overlook before proceeding to Bandelier.

Bandelier National Monument is best known for mesas, sheer-walled canyons, and the ancestral Pueblo dwellings found among them. This fascinating archaeological site, situated at 7,000 feet above sea level, encompasses over 32,000 acres of wilderness crisscrossed by 60 miles of maintained trails. The Park was designated in 1916 and named for nineteenth-century anthropologist Adolph Bandelier. Frijoles Canyon is famous for its extensive Anasazi ruins and cliff dwellings that date back to about 1100 AD. The Anasazi farmed this canyon for over 400 years and lived in multi-storied stone and mud structures or in caves carved out of the volcanic cliffs. Even if you’re not an archaeological enthusiast, you will enjoy climbing the ladders into the caves and kivas. Be prepared for changes in the weather by dressing in layers and wear comfortable closed-toe shoes. Sunscreen recommended.

Acoma “Sky City” Pueblo

Date: Thursday, May 1, 2008
Time: 9:00 AM – 2:00 PM
Price: $72.00

A Pueblo member will take you on a 1/4-mile leisurely guided tour of the village, explaining the culture and history of the tribe. Points of interest include San Estevan del Rey Mission, built in 1629, the largest and most remarkable of all the Spanish Colonial mission churches in New Mexico. All building materials for the church and other structures in the village were carried or hauled great distances by hand up the steep slope of the mesa. The 360-degree views from Acoma are breathtaking and offer many photo opportunities. There is a $10 permit fee per camera. Video recorders are prohibited. This tour includes a box lunch with assorted soft drinks and bottled water.

Old Town/Museum District Shuttle

Date: Thursday, May 1, 2008
Time: 10:00 AM – 5:00 PM
Price: $5.00

$5.00 gives you all-day back-and-forth access to Old Town and the Museum District. Old Town is much like Santa Fe without the price tags. The Atomic museum is great-learn about the Manhattan Project or that nuclear bone scan you had last week. The Albuquerque Museum of Art and History is a must. The Natural History Museum will introduce you to our own New Mexican dinosaurs. And then there is Explora Children’s Museum. A continuous shuttle from the Hyatt Regency Albuquerque will run every fifteen minutes from 10:00 AM to 4:45 PM.

Indian Pueblo Cultural Center

Date: Thursday, May 1
Time: 6:00 PM – 10:00 PM
Price: $95.00 (Cash Beer and Wine Bar)

Join us this evening for a visit to the Indian Pueblo Cultural Center, an Albuquerque landmark dedicated to the preservation and perpetuation of Pueblo Indian culture, history, and art. The Center is committed to educating all generations of visitors and is your gateway to the lifeways and culture of the indigenous inhabitants of New Mexico. The museum documents the origins, spoken traditions, arts and crafts, and cultural development of the Pueblo Indians. Come explore the facility, listen to a Native American flute player, watch a Native American dance group perform and enjoy a buffet dinner.

Jane Butel is an internationally recognized authority on the regional cooking of the American Southwest. Bon Appetit credits her Cooking School as the “BEST IN THE U.S.” VACATION SCHOOL. Jane will offer a demonstration cooking class, cooking classics of New Mexican cuisine such as (tamales and chiles rellenos) followed by lunch.

Casa San Ysidro and Casa Rondeña Winery

Date: Friday, May 2, 2008
Time: 10:00 AM – 2:00 PM
Price: $79.00

Casa San Ysidro is named for Corrales’ patron saint, San Ysidro Labrador, and was built in the second half of the nineteenth century. Recently featured on the popular television series The Antiques Road Show, it contains an outstanding collection of New Mexican treasures spanning three centuries and illustrates the fascinating story of the region, from the Spanish Colonial period to the present. Nestled under old cottonwoods and elms the complex includes the main house, chapel, a weaving studio, corrals, vintage wagons, courtyards and gardens. Casa San Ysidro offers a vivid picture of life in the colonial period.

Next, you head to one of Albuquerque’s artisan wineries for a tour and wine tasting. New Mexico’s sun soaked soil and cool high desert nights are nearly perfect for the cultivation of grapes and have contributed to the recent revival of wine making in one of the nation’s oldest wine producing regions. The high desert climate and ideal soil nurture Cabernet Sauvignon, Johannisburg Riesling, Merlot, Pinot Noir, Sauvignon Blanc, Zinfandel and other classic grapes to produce outstanding wines. Enjoy a delicious cheese and fruit platter while sampling these fine wines.

Sandia Peak Tram and Sandia Crest Hike

Date: Friday, May 2, 2008
Time: 1:15 PM – 6:15 PM
Price: $82.00

Head east to the foothills of the Sandia Mountains for a ride on the Sandia Peak Tram, the world’s longest free-span cable tramway, and a hike along part of the Sandia Crest Trail.

The 2.7-mile tramway ride to the top will take you through four of the seven life zones found in North America. Traversing these zones is equivalent to taking a trip from Mexico City to Alaska! Once atop Sandia Peak, at an elevation of 10,375 feet above sea level, you will marvel at the thousands of square miles of breathtaking scenery and panoramic views in all directions.

There is an extensive system of maintained trails in the Sandia Mountain Wilderness Area. The Crest Trail runs for twenty-eight miles from Tijeras Canyon in the south to the village of Placitas at the north end of the Sandias. You will hike along part of this route to several splendid scenic overlooks. This is an easy hike. Wear sturdy shoes and a hat. A box lunch will be included.

Hiking at Tent Rocks

Date: Friday, May 2, 2008
Time: 1:00 PM – 6:00 PM
Price: $76.00

You are in for a truly remarkable adventure as you travel north to Kasha-Katuwe Tent Rocks National Monument located on land managed jointly by Cochiti Pueblo and the Bureau of Land Management. Tent Rocks is a truly unique geological site that features massive, cone-shaped formations that hug the steep cliffs of Peralta Canyon. These formations are wind and water eroded pumice and tuff deposits topped by erosion-resistant caprocks that protect the softer pillars below. While fairly uniform in shape, the tent rock formations vary in height from a few feet to 90 feet. No other national park or national monument in the western United States illustrates more dramatically the geologic aspects of faulting, volcanic activity, and infilling by sediment and groundwater.

A geologist will accompany this tour to add to your enjoyment of this magical place and answer questions. Hiking shoes, a hat, and sunscreen recommended and don’t forget your camera. Includes a box lunch. Travel time to/from approximately one hour.

Golf

Date: Friday, May 2, 2008
Time: 1:30 PM – 6:30 PM
Location: UMN Championship Golf Course
Price: $115.00

The University of New Mexico is proud to offer the finest golfing in the Southwest. The University of New Mexico Championship Golf Course, locally known as
